Scandals and violence at Callan Park have generated government enquiries and wide publicity. Speakers explore Callan Park as a site of violence and conflict; how its public space is lived and constructed; and in Museum Madness, hear volunteers discuss their work creating Kenmore Hospital Museum – and that potential here.

- Zoe Baker      Callan Park, a shared space in a developed world
Zoe spent much of 2008 researching ways in which public space and place is lived, understood and constructed – particularly at Callan Park.
- Jen Hawksley      "No Way Out": Callan Park as a site of violence & conflict
Jen discusses her PhD research into Callan Park's closed patient files examining how violence manifested itself within the asylum and the response of authorities.
- Leoné Morgan      Museum Madness
Hear how a dedicated (committed?) group of staff formed and developed the Kenmore Hospital Museum and what has been achieved by the Friends of 'Kenmore Hospital's History Inc' in 9 years. Leoné trained at Kenmore Hospital and is Museum Secretary.
